Administrative history / Biographical sketch

Note

In 1900 A.L. Cochrane established the first private camp in Ontario. By 1925, the number of private camps in Ontario had increased to only six or seven. The camps established during this time period (1900-1925) were mainly for boys over the age of thirteen. Co-ed camps were unheard of at this time. As of 1925, the private camps were making headway in their development and agency camps, such as the Y.M.C.A., were opening up across the province. The leaders and directors of these camps, wanting to keep abreast of new trends, began to regularly attend the American Camping Association conventions, due to the absence of a Canadian or Ontario camping association. This situation, although helpful to the evolution of camps in Ontario, was not ideal. Issues relevant to Canadian camps, and camp leaders and directors, were not being addressed by the American association. As a result, the camp leaders in Ontario decided to form their own group. In the first few years, the meetings were informal, and held in private homes. The first members were A.L. Cochrane, H.E. Chapman, Mary Edgar, Mary Hamilton, Fern Halliday, and Taylor and Ethel Statten. One of the main topics of discussion centered on the need for a camping association in Ontario. In 1933, this group of private camp leaders and directors formally founded the Ontario Camping Association. Taylor Statten was made the first chairman of the Association. It was decided by the founding members that the Association would not just be for private camps, but would be open to anyone engaged in any aspect of camping. The interests of the founders of the Association encompassed the development and maintenance of high camping standards in the field of camping for children and an appreciation of the wider aspects of the camping movement. They believed that through discussion and consideration of common camping policies and problems, and by mutual exchange of ideas and knowledge, better camping would be achieved. The Ontario Camping Association was responsible for the development and implementation of standards for Ontario's children's camps, and, in 1941, in conjunction with the Provincial Department of Health, made the licensing of all camps mandatory. The headquarters of the Association are located in Toronto, Ontario. In 2012, the Ontario Camping Association changed its name to Ontario Camps Association.

Folder 17:

Centenary Journey

- 434. Good camping means experience and skill in building fireplaces and fires, as well as knowing how to cook and erect pot holders. At Centenary Journey participants must be well versed in camping skills prior to taking a Trip. b/w, 25 1/2 x 20, no neg.
- 435. Mountains, as well as rivers and lakes must be crossed on the Voyageurs Highway. b/w, 25 1/2 x 20, no neg.
- 436. "Getting there is half the fun" - and half the fun is portaging past white water, dangerous rapids, dams and other man-made obstacles. b/w, 25 1/2 x 20, no neg.
- 437. A highlight of any trip is the meals... especially when a group experiments with Bannock (Balsam Portage, Saskatchewan). b/w, 25 1/2 x 20, no neg.

438. Good trippers must also be experienced in the art of map reading and compass work. b/w, 25 1/2 x 20, no neg.
439. A good tripper takes time out to relax, explore, and fish (Sturgeon Weir River, Saskatchewan - a group from the Regina YMCA). b/w, 25 1/2 x 20, no neg.
440. A stark reminder of a man-made Lake. Once a small stream winding through beautiful countryside the naked trees are epitaphs to the advances of the lumbering and hydro industries. b/w, 25 1/2 x 20, no neg.
441. Sleeping under the stars will be a wonderful part of Centenary Journey. But good campers must always be prepared for rain. Tents must be properly pitched and trenched. b/w, 25 1/2 x 20, no neg.
442. Grand Portage - a key centre in the early commerce of Canada. b/w, 25 1/2 x 20, no neg.
443. On Miron Lake, Saskatchewan, a group of Centenary Journey participants from the Regina YMCA Camp take time to pose for a photograph which will go in many scrapbooks - a pleasant reminder of the part they played in the Camping Associations' Centennial Project. b/w, 25 1/2 x 20, no neg.
444. To participate campers must also know how to handle a canoe in White Water. b/w, 25 1/2 x 20, no neg.
445. Other campers look on enviously as a group sets off on their trip (Mahood Lake, British Columbia). b/w, 25 1/2 x 20, no neg.
446. Exploration and research will be an important part of the responsibilities of Centenary Journey participants. On side trips troops will enjoy discovering old Indian cabins, and taking the time to meet local inhabitants who can spend hours around a campfire relating legends of the past. b/w, 25 1/2 x 20, no neg.
447. And so the day begins! - Or is it the end of a portage? In any event from land to water brings on new thrills and anticipation of what lies beyond. b/w, 25 1/2 x 20, no neg.
448. Indian villages and reservations still lie along the Voyageurs Highway. Canoeists welcome the opportunity to find such a village and visit with its inhabitants. b/w, 25 1/2 x 20, no neg.
